

The Sullivan's Islanders

PROVIDED

Just when you thought it was safe to go back into the water...

A new organization has sprung up on Sullivan's Island. Unlike other island organizations that have come and gone, this passionate group called The Sullivan's Islanders has established a clear mission statement that all islanders can rally around and support. The intent is to come together for the common good while promoting island heritage and protecting all that residents hold dear.

The group's goals are to maintain and improve the quality of life for all island citizens through the safeguarding of our lands, maritime forests, and beaches; to prevent the over development of both commercial and private properties; and to protect all historic homes and public structures through effective laws of preservation.

In October, The Sullivan's Islanders will be sponsoring its first annual historic Sullivan's Island Bus Tour. Roy Williams, author of Images of America, Sullivan's Island, will be presenting historical information on the architecture and histories of significant homes and public buildings. Mr. Williams is a gifted, well-versed, and entertaining speaker whose knowledge of this island is vastly informative. Our neighborhood is like no other, so plan now to join Roy Williams as he leads you into a deeper appreciation of the island's remarkable history.

We all value and treasure our island. The Sullivan's Islanders want to help tell the story of its past, appreciate its present, and plan well for its future.
